

CITY ROLL CALL WORKERS TONIGHT

Dr. Baragwanath Will Speak at Meeting in K. of C. Hall at which Workers Will Receive Final Instructions.

At the City Workers' Red Cross Roll Call dinner tonight at 6:30 in Knights of Columbus building the Rev. T. H. Promptly at 9 o'clock Thursday morning Chairman DeWitt will start with his five teams to extend the invasion of the "Greatest Mother" to the industrial workers in the factories and boatyards of the city. Sergeant White of the Australian Army will be on hand to help in the speaking.

Everything All Right.

Nellie was happily anticipating Santa Claus' visit. It was Christmas eve, and raining furiously. A friend happened in and said: "Santa Claus can't come tonight because it is raining." Nellie thought seriously a moment and said: "Oh, yes he can; he has his reindeer."

In loving memory of Alice E. Hempstead, who died October 27, 1918:

A peaceful one from us has gone
A voice we loved is still.
A place is vacant in our home which never can be filled.
Dark and dreary is our dwelling
Lonely is our home today
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever passed away.

AFTERNOON DRESS OF VELVET

This charming afternoon gown of navy blue velvet comes from Lady Duff Gordon. It is fastened high at the neck with an interesting array of steel buttons on the waist and the sleeves.

NO EXTREME FEATURES USED

New Fall and Winter Clothes Are Marked by a General Air of Simplicity.

In viewing the new clothes for fall and winter one is struck by the absence of extreme features, and also by the general air of simplicity displayed. Colors are quiet, browns, blues and black predominating, with here and there a demure costume carried out in gray or taupe. Even embroidery has been subdued, and although in a few cases bright-colored wool or silk is used, the general tendency is toward gray and beige, or a soft coppery red that is new and most attractive.

As inevitable as the season itself is the serge street frock, and its variations are many; so, while at first glance there is a slightly monotonous effect in the costume of the women who now throng the smart restaurants and shops, a closer inspection reveals an individuality in the arrangement of certain new details of trimming, or in the cut of the neck or fashion of sleeve. To keep to the fad of using as little wool as possible there are many clever combinations of fabrics and one is inclined to feel that this rule, instead of hindering, has been an aid to the creative abilities of designers.

NEWEST FASHIONS ARE CHIC

Late Styles Are Regarded as More Practical Than They Have Been in Recent Years.

Taking it all in all, the new fashions are more attractive and at the same time more practical than they have been in years. Here are a few salient characteristics:

Belts are either soft and draped or flat and straight. One Paris frock has a belt made of a strip of inch-wide braid with the ends crossed and falling in short tabs. The most graceful sash is of satin, with fringed ends.

The new color is henna, sometimes called rust color. All the browns will be fashionable and certain shades of green. Gray is much liked for street costumes and taupe and gray make a smart combination. Every other dinner gown is black.

A yard and twelve inches will be enough width for the fall skirt—it one wishes to be extremely smart. More conservative taste may increase the width as far as a yard and three-quarters—no more than that is permitted by fashion.

Sleeves must be tight as one can stand them, with small armholes and the wrist provided with buttons and loops or other fastening devices, so that one may get into the sleeve without a struggle.

MILLINERY HINTS

Although one occasionally sees a bright red or horizon blue hat, this fall it is the fur tones, brown and gray, that lead in millinery. This means a range of some extent, for the brown furs are rather numerous and there are several shades in the gray grouping. Sometimes a feather fancy in contrasting shade is used for trimming, but more often the one color scheme is maintained.

Fringed silk ribbon is the trimming novelty and on some of the models from Paris it resembles an ostrich feather band.

The minimum of trimming is the rule and often a narrow band of greenish ribbon is the sole decoration on a turban or sailor shape of velvet, tawny or better's plush.

Handkerchief Fad.

A dainty handkerchief has one corner cut off and remade by a triangle of white net on which is one's name.

Daily Thought.

There is a great deal of unimagined country within us which would have to be taken into account in an explanation of our guests and storms.—George Eliot.

FIRING THE LAST SHOT.

Lieut. Von Ostenbrunne in at Finish of the Fighting.

Lieut. Horace Von Ostenbrunne, 168th Infantry, writes his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. Von Ostenbrunne of Ulster Park, as follows:

Somewhere in France,
Nov. 12, 1918.

Dear Mother and Dad:—Received your letters last Saturday. Moved Sunday into what proved to be the last battle of the great war. Was in all day Sunday, and Monday till 11 o'clock a. m., when the last shot was fired. I think our line was the first to have Old Glory floating over it after that shot was fired. The chaplain brought it up in about five minutes after that last shot. It sure was some time for us who were on the front line at that hour. Suppose everyone in the U. S. A. was as brave as we were and knew of the sacrifice as soon as we did. It was a hard day and a half but that is passed now and it looks as if we will be among the first to get home. Have done a lot that is the 28th, and sure would like to get the honor of being first home as we are first on the line. Came through it without a scratch and am thankful to say. Hope it will not be many months before I shall be home again for all time. As always your loving son,

HORACE.

KNITFLUSH.

Kingsdole, Dec. 11.—The war just ended, the dearest under Captain Fred A. Smith was a grand success. Mr. Smith feels very thankful that the people of the town are so generally toward helping them win the war.

The Red Cross drive here is being managed by Frank Cooper, who is very busy selling war bonds to the people of the town. In the interest of this fund it is hoped the people will take interest in it. A few checks for their comfort.

Harry Shea expects to move his family to Staten Island in the near future.

Mrs. Mary Trimmer spent a few days in Kingston the past week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Trimmer's youngest son and daughter of New York City spent the week end at the home of T. W. Trimmer.

HEARD ON THE GOLF COURSE.

He had pulled his golf ball far to the left.

"Well," he said by way of consolation.

"I'm sure it will be a pull then a slice."

"That's a good one," replied the expert.

"In golf it may be better, but I've noticed in the case of golfers they frequently play for a pull in order to get a slice."

Break some bones in his foot on Thursday last by a plank falling on it.

Latest story of Kingston spent Sunday with his parents.

Confession of an Aviator.

For myself, writes Charles E. Worthoff in Atlantic, there is nowhere and nobody I would rather be at present than here and a pilot. No man in his senses could say he enjoyed the war; but as it must be fought out, I would rather be in aviation than in any other branch.

A pleasant life, good food, good sleep, and two to four hours a day in the air. After four hours (in two spells) over the lines, constantly alert and cranking to dodge scandalous accurate shells and suddenly appearing Boches, putting in the third act at 2000 feet, the boys are, I think, justified in calling it a day. I have noticed that the coolest men are a good bit let down after a dozen machine fight for up in the crowded air. It may seem soft to an infantryman—20 hours of sleep, eating and drinking; but in reality the aviator should be given an easy time outside of flying.

Cataract of the Eye.

In cataract of the eye, the lens becomes opaque, or dark, and therefore no longer capable of transmitting the light. Causes of cataract are numerous. Inflammation or injury to the lens may produce it, and may be the result of various diseases, such as gout, rheumatism, diabetes or scrofula, and often accompanies old age. One remedy requires a surgical operation to remove the diseased lens.

The Expectant Mother

"The Shadow of Coming Events" often darkens the days of the expectant mother.

Constipation, always a handicap to the health and happiness of every woman, becomes doubly dangerous to the woman who is preparing to fulfill her highest duty—maternity.

The expectant mother must nourish two. She must be able to get rid of a double waste. Failure to do so poisons herself and the child that she is to bring into the world.

Constipation means more than mere failure to have a regular thorough bowel evacuation. It means stagnation of waste matter in the bowels, production of irritant and poisonous matter, its absorption into the blood, and distribution all over the body.

It means aggravation of all these discomforts that attend the period of pregnancy. It contributes to the tragedies of childbirth. It prejudices the ability of the mother to nurse her child after it has been born.

And, it is dangerous to employ pills, castor oil, purgative minner, waters, salts, etc. that force the bowels to act.

But the Nujol Treatment for Constipation is not only harmless but in every way efficient.

Nujol helps Nature to re-establish natural, thorough, bowel evacuation, regular as clockwork.

Nujol is absolutely harmless.

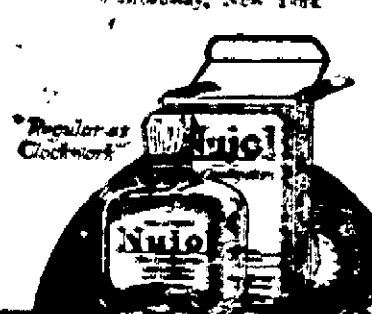

Nujol is not absorbed. It cannot affect the child. It is easy and pleasant to take.

Not of all. Nujol not only overcomes constipation, but it hinders the formation of poisons in the bowels, absorbs and carries them out of the body, thus preventing complications.

Get Nujol from your druggist and take according to directions.

Warning: NUJOL is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

ALL AFRICA A "REPUBLIC."

Appealing to President Wilson's doctrine of the "self-determination of small peoples," a re-statement of Thomas Jefferson's older doctrine of "the consent of the governed," a correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Ledger asks that all Africa be left in the hands of its native negroes. "Give to Africa," he says, "the privilege of self-determination. She was once great. Give her a chance to straighten her backbone once again. To foster the founding of a new Negro republic would be one of the largest acts of international philanthropy the world has ever seen." This correspondent would have an end not only of German but of English, French, Belgian or other colonies in Africa, and have the whole continent become one huge black republic.

Strictly speaking, this is sufficiently consistent with both the Wilson doctrine of self-determination and the original Jefferson doctrine of the consent of the governed, but the practical application of the principle in this case could never be forced into harmony with common sense. The correspondent wisely omitted to mention the period wherein "Africa" was "great"—Africa with its hundreds of mutually hostile tribes, those on the north with some connection with Europe being only semi-barbarous and those of the central and southern portions being purely savage. A successful or any sort of "republic" formed out of the whole would be about as promising a proposition as making silk purses out of sow's ears. This would be true even if the negro republics of Liberia, San Domingo, etc., had not failed. If Africa rightfully belongs to the aboriginal negroes, America rightfully belongs to the aboriginal Indians. White men have as much right to remain in the parts of Africa they have civilized and built up as Americans have to remain in the United States.

The only question is whether Germany has been false to her stewardship in East Africa—all the accounts indicate that she has—and whether the supervision of some other European nation would be better for the natives of that region. In this connection it is pertinent to remark that of all Europeans the British are the most successful and humane colonizers, knowing best how to uplift the natives to a higher plane of civilization while maintaining order and developing the occupied region in an industrial way.

Seven Turkish and two French papers in Constantinople want America to recognize the Turkish government, taking over temporarily its finances, police power, etc. Thanks: America already has a pretty large number of unavoidable European duties without accepting every invitation looking toward a sort of world-paternalism.

According to the National Zeitung of Basle, the Germans despised the Hohenzollerns "only because they failed to conquer and not because they violated all the laws of humanity." The Swiss editor is right. The Kaiser and his war methods were fully approved until defeat came.

The liberated French towns displayed so many Allied and American flags because the retreating Germans not only sold at stiff prices those they had captured but imported new ones made in Germany for that purpose. Such is the German idea of dignity, honor and patriotism.

In view of the wholesale destruction by the Germans of everything from lace mills to an individual sewing machine, it is surprising as well as gratifying to hear that about half of the cotton mills in northern France either miraculously escaped or can be promptly put into condition for operation.

The Germans are not willing to lie on the bed of their own making and insist that munificent America supply them with down quilts.

Fashionable modistes report that never was there such a demand for the gown as now and that they are far behind with their orders, showing that, after a season of restraint at war's call, adornment-loving woman is returning to the normal.

For a man who said he owned German soldiers "body and soul" and who claimed a partnership with the Almighty, William Hohenzollern has had some fall from his lofty perch.

A correspondent reports that "there is not even a movie show in the crown prince's lonely island." Worse still, there is no slaughtering of soldiers to be watched like a theatrical spectacle from a safe distance.

COUNTY TAX BUDGET REDUCED $44,603

Total of New Budget is $280,876.30
—Pay of Jurors Increased From $3 to $4 a Day—Board in Recess Until December 19.

The Board of Supervisors Tuesday evening, after adopting the report of the committee on appropriation and voting in favor of a resolution increasing the pay of grand and trial jurors from $2 to $4 a day, with pay for night service, and mileage at five cents a mile going and returning to their homes once each week, took a recess until Thursday evening, December 19. The total budget for the county is considerably less than last year for which the taxpayers will be pleased, and will give due credit to the board for its watchfulness in their interest. The total amount of the budget is $280,876.30, being $44,603.26 less than the budget of last year. The committee therefore recommended that there be levied and assessed upon the property liable therefore: For the general fund, $217,230.63; for the poor fund, $21,354.09; total $238,584.72; for the highway fund, $42,291.57; grand total, $280,876.30. The report was read in full, approved and a resolution to carry out the recommendation adopted.

On motion of Supervisor Brown the privileges of the floor were voted to Joseph A. Costello, a former supervisor of the Sixth ward.
Supervisors Lounsbury, Van Etten and Coons of the appropriations committee, recommended that beginning January 1, 1919, the compensation of grand and trial jurors be fixed at $4 a day, and in addition to be paid five cents a mile for each mile traveled, coming to the court house and returning to their homes once each week as the law provides, also to be paid for services performed as jurors at night when ordered by the court. The recommendation was adopted. Ayes, 22; nays, 1 (Schermerhorn).

On motion of Supervisor Saxe the board took a recess until December 19, at 7 o'clock.

The county board of canvassers will meet at 1 p. m. on December 19 to canvass the soldier vote.

Why not get a little of the peal-off product? Life is too short. Use "Gets-It" every few seconds to apply and there is no further. Corns go. Wear new shoes if you want. Peel off the corn with your fingers—the whole thing, root and all, clear and clean, and it's gone! Only "Gets-It" can do this. Take no chances. # FOOT DESCRIBES CROSSING CRASH witness insisted he saw it as described. The right hand side of the car was smashed by the rear end of the trolley car which crashed into it as it swung around, and Traver said he had a narrow escape.

Frank Weishaupt, the fireman, who formerly lived in this city, corroborated the testimony of the engineer, adding that he heard the two long and two short whistles blown for the crossing in addition to the station whistle.

A. DeWitt Mull of Union Hill, N. J., rear trainman on No. 9 that morning, heard the whistles and saw the gates down after the crash.

John Sullivan, flagman at the Lake Katrine West Shore crossing, with a league that would have landed him a job on the New York police force years ago, and now then a hint of inescapability, told how he was waiting to take No. 9 just south of the station and saw the accident. He said the gates were down on both sides of the crossing and that the car ran through the eastern pair.

Walter S. Nestell, clerk in the West Shore freight house, stood at the upper window as the train blew and saw the gates start down. He then went down stairs and perhaps two minutes later heard the crash. There were cars on the siding next to the freight house within at least 15 feet of the front end.

Court recessed at this point until 2 p. m.

Case No. 53, the Annet action to recover for goods sold, has been put over the term by consent.

WHY LURIE DIDN'T GO OVER TO FRANCE

PRIVATE WILLIAM LURIE.

Battery A, Third F. A. R. R., Camp Jackson, S. C., one of the men who sailed on the Kronland, the ship that returned to port after the armistice was signed, having been recalled.

Stone Laid for Each Tribe.

The foundation stones of the Hebrew university at Jerusalem, recently laid in the presence of General Allenby and representatives of the French and Italian detachments, are 12 in number, one for each of the 12 tribes of Israel.

The site is on the summit of the Mount of Olives, facing Jerusalem on the one side and the Hills of Moab on the other.

Airplane Travel Fees.

In lieu of the usual allowance of seven cents a mile for expenses of army officers traveling by an airplane, the war department announced the other day, they will be allowed only four cents a mile. According to the ruling of the judge advocate general transportation by airplane is placed in the same class as travel by prairie schooner, dog sleds in Alaska and buffalo carts in the Philippines.

Expand Air School.

An appropriation of $1,200,000 is expected to be available for the building program to permit the expansion of St. Paul Aviation Mechanics' Training school to twice its present capacity of 5,000 men. The war department already has appropriated $200,000 to prepare the school for the winter by installation of heating plants and remodeling of buildings.

Fined for Throwing Kisses.

Three young men were fined $10 each in Worcester, Mass., for disturbing the peace, on complaint of the management of a carpet factory that, by throwing kisses to the girls employed in the mills, they distracted the attention of the girls from their work, so that they fell short of 100 per cent efficiency.

Prisoners of Duty.

The British government is shortly to effect an exchange of 1,000 British prisoners, but there will be still many left over there, and naturally they will need doctors. Under the Berne agreement of December last it is arranged that one British doctor and five of the medical personnel of the ranks should be detained for every 1,000 prisoners. No inspection of prison camps under the Berne agreement has yet been made, but it is very probable that conditions there may necessitate more doctors being detained. There are some things in warfare which are harder than actual fighting, and to stay behind in a prison camp tending wounded and mangled men when others joyfully set sail for home or active service requires all the unselfish devotion to duty with which doctors are credited by the laity.

King Salmon Ran Late.

Big king salmon, which run in millions up the Yukon river every summer, were about four weeks late in making their appearance this year. As a result white residents and natives along the river who depend on the run for their winter food talked of salmon famine and the horrors of a fishless winter.

Delayed winter ice in the Bering sea at the mouth of the Yukon, it is believed here, made it impossible for the fish to enter the stream. Bering sea ice, this year, according to reports, moved later than at any time in the last decade. The fish are taken from the river in nets and wheel traps and are cured in camps along the shores.

Stands to Reason.

"More money? Do you think I'm made of money?"

"No," replied his wife quietly. "If you were made of money you'd be apt to shed a little now and then."

Promising Opening.

The traveling showman was waiting eloquent as he described the characteristics of his wild horse from Tartary.

"Ladies and gents," he said, "this animal is a real terror. If there's any gent in this company as far as himself as a rider, I'll give him five pounds for every minute he sticks on this horse. I've rid horses all my life, but this horse is beyond me. I've tried 'im every way, but he shakes me off in ten seconds."

"Why not get inside him?" queried a humorist.

The showman smiled until the laughter had died down.

"My lad," he said, witheringly, "I've thought of that. But nature has been unkind to me in the matter of mouth; it ain't big enough. Now, if it had been yours—"

But the humorist did not wait to hear the logical conclusion of the argument.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Know you the wonderland that smiling lies
Just on beyond the turning of the way,
Where every mead is blossom-pled and skies
Are bluer than the depths where salt waves play?

GOOD THINGS FOR THE FAMILY.

Green vegetables, such as spinach, chard, lettuce and water cress should appear as often as possible upon our tables.

Meat that is tough may be made more palatable by stewing in water with the addition of a tablespoonful of vinegar, which softens the fibers of the meat.

A Salt Cod Dinner.—Take a third of a pound of salt codfish, cut in pieces two inches square and one-half inch thick, and then scald in three waters. Boil two large beets until tender, cook four medium-sized potatoes until mealy and dry, and dice two slices of salt pork and fry until the little cubes are brown with plenty of drippings. Have everything ready at the same instant. The true salt cod devotee will first mash the potato with a fork, then shred the fish and mix it with the potato; over this a slice or two of hot beet. Dice the beet and mix with the other two, then add pork dice and drippings and cover with a generous spoonful of thin cream sauce. This is most truly a dish in which the "proof of the pudding is in the eating." This recipe may be doubled or increased to fit the size of the family served.

Orange Salad.—An orange salad is refreshing and not expensive for a winter salad. Peel and let the oranges stand awhile to dry, when the white part may be easily peeled off, and then they may be sliced. Grate a little of the rind, if liked, to add to the dressing. Season with salt and pepper with a little fresh tarragon finely minced, a few shredded chives or finely chopped onion. Squeeze the juice of an orange over the salad or serve with French dressing.

Carrots cooked in a little water, then seasoned with butter, salt and a dash of lemon juice is a dish good for a change.

Try adding cream to season rutabagas instead of butter, as the former seems to remove the strong flavor, which is objectionable to many palates.

Printing in China.

The Chinese follow the primitive way of printing from engraved wooden blocks. The matter to be printed is first written by means of ink, upon paper which is pasted face downward upon a block of a pear or plum tree. After the paper becomes dry it is rubbed until an inverted impression of the characters is left. Then the blank spaces are cut away and the block is turned over to the printer, who works by hand. He takes care to ink the characters equally and to avoid tearing the impression.

Paper Conservation Not New.

The Chinese have an ancient custom, old when Europe was young, and based upon their respect for learning, observes Robert L. McElroy of the National Security League. They never allow paper which contains written symbols to litter the "streets" or fields. Chinese mothers train their children to deposit all such scraps of paper in the picturesque little buildings which dot the temple gardens. "The wrath of heaven falls upon those who disregard this duty" is a lesson carried in each tiny Chinese heart.

PHOENICIA.

Phoenicia, Dec. 11.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist Church will hold a chicken supper in the basement of the church on Friday evening, the 13th, at 6 o'clock.

The Phoenicia Choral Society has resumed its meetings again and is preparing a musical entertainment to be rendered some time in January. We cordially invite everyone who sings to join our society.

At the regular meeting of the Phoenicia Choral Society, held November 22, the following resolutions were adopted:

In Memoriam.

"Be it resolved, that we, the members of the Phoenicia Choral Society, wish to pay the following tribute to the everlasting memory of Miss Belle Longyear, who departed this life October 24th, 1918, as a mere expression of our sincere affection and deep sorrow.

"Our Heavenly Father having taken to Himself our beloved friend and associate, Belle Longyear, we, the members of this society, desire to express our deep sense of personal bereavement and our sincere appreciation of her worth. We who have known her so well, can unreservedly testify to the nobility of her character, to the cheerful self-renunciation with which she endeavored to fulfill all the duties of her life, having no other motive than a desire to live according to the true spirit of Christianity. Surely the dawn of each day will bring us nearer to Him who has higher the greater the cross, the higher the glory, and having wandered into that unknown land, God grant that united with her we may forever sing His praises in that beautiful land on high.

"We lay this memorial to a beautiful life and faithful service on the hearts of her loved ones and leave her in the Saviour's keeping until the day breaks and the shadows flee away."

DID DAZZO HAVE A STARVING BABE?

Mr. Cole Claims Dazzo Said He Had and That Was Reason He Trusted Him—Judge O'Reilly Claims Dazzo Has No Child.

Vincenzo Dazzo of No. 109 Farrelly street, who has figured in the highlight of publicity lately, figured in another role today in police court; that of a prisoner. He was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Sergeant Hanley on a warrant sworn out by George N. Cole, who has a grocery store at Farrelly and Lincoln streets, who claims Dazzo committed the crime of petit larceny.

According to Mr. Cole's story Dazzo came in the store on the first of the month and informed Mr. Cole he had a starving seven months' old baby at home, and that he had no money to buy something to eat. He said he was employed in the Nitro powder plant and would get paid the next day when he would settle the grocery bill. Mr. Cole claims he gave Mr. Dazzo provisions to the amount of $1.15. Since then he has not been paid.

Mr. Cole was represented by Judge N. Frank O'Reilly, who informed Judge Schurick that as a matter of fact Dazzo has no child, and has made it a practice of deceiving all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Cole was not objecting so much to the $1.15, but when Dazzo told the story of the starving child that was going too far.

Mr. Dazzo retained Chris Flanagan to represent him, and a plea of not guilty was entered, and the hearing adjourned to Monday. Cash bail was fixed at $50 by the court. The other day Dazzo had Serafino Cocco arrested on a charge of threatening to kill him, but when the case came up Monday in police court Dazzo failed to appear to press the charge, and Cocco was discharged. Dazzo at that time claimed that Cocco was after Mrs. Dazzo and wanted her to live with him as his wife.

Folly of Monarchical Government.

As the exercise of government requires talents and abilities, and as talents and abilities cannot have hereditary descent, it is evident that hereditary succession requires a belief from man to which his reason cannot subscribe and which can only be established upon ignorance; and the more ignorant any country is, the better it is fitted for the monarchical species of government.—Thomas Paine.

HEALTH BOARD ADOPTS BUDGET

Calling For $9,000—This Past Year the Board Spent $10,500—Dr. Connolly Explains Granville Van Buren's Attitude.

The board of health at its regular monthly meeting held late Tuesday afternoon at the city hall adopted a budget for 1919 calling for an appropriation of $9,000. This year's budget called for $6,500, and the board spent $10,500, or $4,000 more than its appropriation, caused largely by the influenza epidemic.

Mayor Connolly presided at the session with Commissioners Norwood, Hulse, Kaufman and McBride, and the officers of the board present.

Dr. Henry Van Hovenberg, acting health officer, for his extra services during the influenza epidemic will be paid $200, the board taking that action at the meeting Tuesday.

Van Buren And Typhoid.

Dr. Daniel Connolly of Henry street was given the privilege of the floor, and said that Sunday night Granville Van Buren had called at his office and had a long talk with him.

The board has forbidden Van Buren from using any milk or milk products in Kingston as the typhoid epidemic, resulting in two deaths had been traced to milk delivered from the farm. That action had been taken after Mr. Van Buren had absolutely refused to allow any tests to be made of himself or members of his family to determine if they were typhoid carriers or not. One typhoid carrier was found employed on the Van Buren farm.

Dr. Connolly said that he was not present to make an application for Van Buren to be allowed to dispose of his milk, but as Van Buren had refused to appear before the board and explain his theory of the typhoid matter he thought that the board was entitled to know what Van Buren's theory was and that was the reason for his appearance.

Van Buren's Theory.

Dr. Connolly said that he had attended six typhoid cases, and that naturally he was interested in any solution of the problem. He said that Van Buren's theory as outlined to him was that the germs got in the milk during the bottling process, and that all of the families which typhoid had developed had used pure bottles of milk. The milk placed in the pure bottles was taken from milk cans which were placed during the day in a large trough filled with ice water. Mr. Van Buren said the trouble seemed to develop in the fall when the ice in the house got low.

Mr. Van Buren also had another theory, and the germs may be in the well water used to water the land, and that the new water, coming from the well, may not be as pure as the old water when they proceeded to use it.

This Mixed The Theory.

The board of health process, which is a fact that one of the typhoid carriers, now dead, had been a milkman, and that the milk was a product of pure milk and never used any of the bottled milk at all.

Ice Not To Blame.

Dr. Norwood said that he hardly thought the trouble was with the ice as it was, was New York city would be full of typhoid from the time it is first used to the last day. Water is so pure and so clean that typhoid germs become sterile and die.

Why Van Buren Refused.

Dr. Connolly said that Mr. Van Buren told him he had no reason to have tests made as the health board had not used him for in 1916 but he was perfectly willing to have Dr. Connolly make the necessary tests and send them to New York for examination.

No Action Required.

Dr. Connolly refused to make the tests stating to Mr. Van Buren that it would not be for him to take with him the board for him to take with action, and that he would have to leave the health officer to make the tests.

Another Skunk Factory?

During the process, Dr. Connolly said that he had been made to him regarding a skunk factory on Van Buren's farm, and that the skunk was a product of pure milk and never used any of the bottled milk at all.

Reports of Officers.

After reading the reports of the officers of the board an adjournment was taken.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears that Ice Houses Are Being Placed in Shape for Winter's Harvest—Probably No Shortage of Men.

"Gosh I feel like an automobile," remarked the busy barber.

"How is that?" asked the customer.

"Tired," replied the barber dodging behind the cigar case.

Well what's new? asked the customer following a pause.

"Nothing much," replied the barber, "but a fellow who was just in said that they were getting the ice houses ready along the river."

"Starting early are they not?" queried the customer.

"No they always start in about now," replied the barber, "and I understand that there is not any too great a stock of ice left on hand."

"They may have trouble getting men to harvest the crop this season," commented the customer.

"I hardly think so," replied the barber, "for now with the munition plants closing down, and the boatyard slackening up somewhat I guess they will have all the men they need."

"What's becoming of the men being laid off?" asked the customer.

"They are getting jobs elsewhere," replied the barber, "and then many of them who lived back in the country have returned to the farm, while some have left town seeking work."

"Seems to me there is going to be a surplus of labor with everything doing war work paying off help," remarked the customer.

"I can't see it that way," replied the barber, "for you must remember that while the war was on a lot of the necessary work had to be held up so that war stuff could be rushed through."

"There has been no building to speak of," continued the barber, "and a lot of plants that were not going much during the war will resume operations, and it is only a question of time when the war will get back to normal."

POMONA GRANGE AT NEW PALTZ

There was good attendance of Grangers at the quarterly session of the Pomona Grange which was held in their hall at New Paltz on Friday last. More than fifty were in their seats at eleven o'clock in the morning when Worthy Master Henry Mc Cormick opened the morning session. Nine of the Subordinate Granges were represented through delegates and reports of the others were read by the secretary, New Paltz heads the list in membership.

All reported that they had given to the Red Cross, purchased bonds and done other patriotic work. The reports and other business concluded the morning session and a large delegation took dinner at Tanneys hotel where an excellent dinner was served. At half past one the meeting was called to order again and the rest of the business was taken up. The grange acted upon several resolutions which were presented, and two members were received and obligated in the fifth degree.

Resolutions were adopted on the death of Dr. Stephens of Gardiner. Mrs. Jones of Ithaca gave a talk on Home Economics and our Home demonstration agent Miss Stuart told what work had been done in her line during the year. C. F. Cochrane, farm bureau manager of Ulster county, also gave a short talk on the farm bureau work.

The following delegates were elected to attend the annual State Grange held at Lockport in February. Harold Story of Ulster Park, Mrs. William Aldorf of Clintonville, Clarence Davis of Lake Katrine and Mrs. Edward Young of Milton.

Charles Tabor of Milton was recommended for County Deputy Director of Farm Bureau to represent the Granges. Walter D. Tallman of Clintonville. Altogether it was a very interesting and profitable meeting.

The next Pomona meeting will be held the first Friday in March at Lake Katrine.

"WE JOINED—HAVE YOU?"

When you have that button pinned on your coat, you can look the whole world in the face—and feel proud.

It means you have answered "present" to the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call for 1919. It means that you have placed your personal stamp of approval on the work of the Greatest Mother in the World, and that you have given her the moral support of your membership.

Red Cross work must go on!

As long as Americans are under arms across the sea, as long as the results of war, pestilence, famine may afflict the world, the need of the Red Cross will exist.

America has never failed in doing its full duty—that duty now is universal membership in the Red Cross.

Put your flag in your window

—let your neighbors know you haven't forgotten Belgium—and France—and our boys who remain overseas.

Wear your Button

It is evidence that you have placed your stamp of approval on the excellent work which the American Red Cross has done—and will continue to do. Don't think for a minute that there will be any curtailment of this essential work.

Join the Red Cross

—all you need is a heart and a dollar
